IDAHO WILDFLOWER STEP-BY-STEP

Begin your project by painting a base coat of White (1) on the bee and flowers of this piece.

Next, paint the petals of the Syringa flowers White (1), then add Fuchsia (4) to the leaf tips & bottom right flowers.

Add Lime Green (6) to the center of the Syringa leaves, stems and buds as shown above.

Leaving a slender line of Fuchsia on the edges of the leaves, blend the Dark Green (7) into the Lime Green in the center of the leaves. Then fill in the rest of the stems.

Add Olive Green (8) to the stems of the bottom right flowers.

Blend the Purple (3) paint into the Fuchsia flower petals of the bottom right flowers.

Paint the center of the Fuchsia flowers with Mustard Yellow (5). You may choose to also add it to the center of the White Syringa flowers.

Finally add Sky Blue (9) to shade the Syringa flower petals. Use a small amount of blue and mostly water to keep it light and easier to blend.

For this piece, start by adding the Olive Green (8) paint to the stem of this flower.

Paint your bee's face and body with Mustard Yellow (5), then add a small amount of yellow to the top portion of the flowers at random.

Next add a little Sky Blue (9) to the bee's wings and the bottom of the flowers, where the sun may cast shadows.

Finally add Black (2) to your bee and create its unique path from the flowers below. Some clients have added a heart to their bee path!
